Figuras rítmicas y sus silencios

Las figuras rítmicas son los símbolos musicales que se usan para representar la duración de las notas.

A diferencia de las notas en el pentagrama, que te dicen qué tan alto o bajo suena un tono, las figuras rítmicas te dicen cuánto tiempo debe sostenerse ese sonido.

Cada figura tiene también un símbolo equivalente llamado silencio, este te indica la duración del silencio que tienes que hacer.

Uno te dice que hagas un sonido, otro que no lo hagas, ambos por cuanto tiempo.

Para entender con más facilidad las figuras rítmicas, pensamos en ellas como si fueran fracciones tomando en cuenta el compás de 4/4:

- Negra: Vale 1 tiempo ($1/4$), es el pulso que seguimos.
- Blanca: Vale 2 tiempo ($2/4$), es el doble que la negra y la mitad del compás.
- Corchea: Vale medio tiempo ($1/8$), es la mitad de la negra, por cada negra hay 2 corcheas.

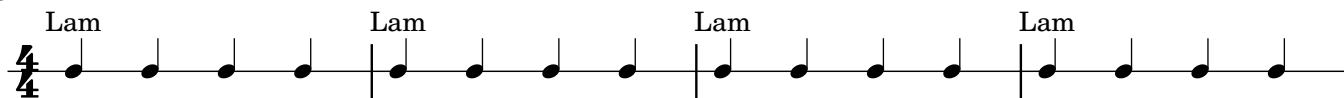

Estas son las figuras más comunes, pero no son las únicas, hay más grandes y más pequeñas, te anoto las que veremos como regalo:

- Semicorchea: Vale un cuarto de tiempo ($1/16$), es la figura más pequeña que veremos, es la mitad de la corchea, por cada corchea hay 2 y por cada negra hay 4
- Redonda: Vale 4 tiempos ($4/4$), es la figura más grande que veremos, llena un compás
